

THE HAUNTED YAWN

By Danny V.

The house of torment in Cathedral City, California contains two haunted attractions in one. The Reckoning will take you to the Apocalypse and the aftermath of world wide destruction, where will you end up? Your fears will become reality. Not for the claustrophobic, this heart pounding, thrill seeking attraction will even bring the most seasoned hunter to their knees. You will not know which corner of the darkness you should be focused on. My friends and I decided to go into the house on Halloween night. My friends and I entered the house walking inside the dark hallways as the floors creaked. The house was filled with spooks and terrors, but ultimately, the experience was underwhelming. We then left and went to Starbucks afterward and had some coffee.

The End.